Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

1. New corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in this application because the present drawings are clearly informal. Applicant is advised to employ the services of a competent patent draftsman outside the Office, as the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office no longer prepares new drawings. The corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The requirement for corrected drawings will not be held in abeyance.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Haglid (6,176,305).

Haglid discloses (see Fig. 1) a heat recovery ventilator including a heat exchanger (16) having inlet and exhaust passageways and inlet and exhaust plenums, and a flow diverter (70) associated with the transfer port, movable between a venting configuration and a defrost configuration (col. 6, line 50).

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3753

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 7-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Haglid (6,176,305) in view of Lagace et al (Canada 2 139 168).

Haglid, as discussed above, discloses a heat recovery ventilator as claimed with the exception of the exhaust and supply fans sharing a common fan motor. However, Lagace et al teach providing a common fan motor for an exhaust fan and a supply fan. It would have been obvious in view of Lagace et al to provide a common fan motor for the fans of Haglid, the motivation being to reduce the power usage of the device by reducing the number of motors that have to be operated.

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Laine et al, Bassilakis, Bailey et al, and Moffitt are cited to show heat recovery ventilation systems.

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Teresa J. Walberg whose telephone number is 571-272-4790. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 9:00 - 5:30.

Art Unit: 3753

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Stephen Blau can be reached on 571-272-4406. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
